WE NOMINATE

Gustave Eisenmann, who at age 51 is completing a quarter-century of service to Princeton Township while also entering upon a "second career" as General Superintendent of the Princeton Shopping Center. His resignation from the Township Police Department and his acceptance of a new post—charged with maintaining the Center's exterior and directing its general-service staff—could well be entitled "The Return of the Native," for early in the First War, shortly after he had given up school, Eisenmann first went to work on the acreage now covered by the Shopping Center. Some four decades ago, however, buildings in the North Harrison Street area were few and far between and Eisenmann earned his first wages as a wartime helper on the "old Clausen Farm."

Township Police Chief for the past three years, and theretofore a long-working patrolman familiar with every nook and cranny of the municipality, Eisenmann can document the Township's growth, step by step and block by block: It is conservatively estimated that "on patrol," generally from early evening until early the following morning, Eisenmann made the equivalent of 30 'round-the-world trips. During the period, as the Township developed from an area of farms into a community of large and small homes, the street-mileage more than doubled, the number of houses almost quadrupled and the police force jumped from two to eight men.

Eisenmann's knowledge of Princeton dates back to 1912, when his German-born father moved the family here from Long Island to operate a farm on the tract now occupied in part by the Institute for Advanced Study—"out at the end of Battle Road," then known as Morningside Avenue. One of a family of ten, he finished his schooling early, "worked around for some time" and in 1929, following eight years' association with Hill's Market, joined the then two-year old Township Police Department. His police training initially was of the on-the-job variety and subsequently in the N. J. State Police Training School, the course currently available to all New Jersey police officers.

In recent years Eisenmann, who in World War II helped train the Volunteer Police Reserve in Princeton as well as in Montgomery Township, has made time for additional "outside activities." Sensing that "the boys could help the Town as much as I could help them," this father of five children became Cubmaster of Cub Pack Number 77, devoted hundreds of hours to learning everything he could about cub-scouting and, among other projects, delightedly opened his home carpenter-shop to his Cub cohorts. A dedicated worker in the Second Presbyterian Church, he is serving this year as a Church Deacon and as Treasurer of the Men's Club within that church.

For looking back with understandable pride upon what the Township Committee recently termed his "honorable and faithful service to the municipality," for meriting the heart-felt gratitude of his fellow Princetonians who have benefited from his devotion to duty; for adhering wholeheartedly to the truism popularized by a Princetonian of yesteryear—"public office is a public trust," he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

Sun Eclipse Wednesday
 Early risers next Wednesday will see the only eclipse of the sun visible this year along the Atlantic seaboard. It is scheduled to begin at 6:06 a.m. and will last nearly two hours, ending at 7:59.
 With the sun rising 39 minutes before the moon's shadow begins to cross its face, clear weather will give a good view of the phenomenon. The eclipse, best viewed with dark glasses because of the glare, will be total in the mid-west but will achieve only 74% blackout here.

great believer in the theory that sport provides a common meeting ground for all, our man was obviously picturing an electrifying broken-field run for the winning touchdown, staged before a joyous throng. Riffing back through the leaves of his notebook, "he muttered, "Next time, let's change the name to "Snake Ames, N. J."

Weather Report. The dry weather that followed early spring rains left Princeton more than four inches short of the normal rainfall for the season, statistics show. Seven inches of precipitation were recorded, against the normal of 11.1 for the three-month period from March 21 to June 21.
 Temperatures were just about normal, averaging 58 degrees. The sun shone more often than not, with 52 days listed as fair or partly cloudy and 40 classified as cloudy.
 For Princetonians whose vaca- tions are still a matter of the future, the long-range forecast was typical of July of bygone years: rainfall below normal, tempera- ture and humidity above normal at least until the middle of the month.

The Fireman's Day. Princeton's Fire Department will have its annual parade and inspection this Friday night, starting at 6:30. George Callighan, a member of the Hook and Ladder and Chemi- cal Engine Company, is the chief.
 A feature of the parade will be the presence of the Pitman Hobo Band, a 45-piece unit that has attracted wide attention through- out the state. Dressed in color- ful costumes that includes the traditional hobo garb and clown suits, the band reportedly provides both good music and a variety of entertainment.

The Hamilton Square Band, which has been in the parade here each summer for several years, will be on hand again. The parade will start at 6:30 from the Chestnut Street headquarters of Princeton Engine Company No. 1, whose members will march along Wiggins to Witherspoon.
 The Hook and Ladder company will join them there, the two units proceeding to Chambers Street to meet Mercer Engine Company No. 3. The entire department will then march down Nassau Street, with the inspection set for the corner of William Street and Olden Avenue.
 The 150 firemen and all pieces of apparatus will be reviewed by members of the borough govern- ing body. The inspection had been held for many years at the Battle Monument, but the new site has been selected to provide greater visibility because of the

 THE BEST ADVICE is often more than we can bear. It takes courage to face the impact of truth, and firm resolution to form new habits to fit the facts.
 Your doctor is sometimes confronted with the stern necessity of advising restrictions in your usual routine. Your favorite dessert or that comforting cigar may be denied you. There is a strong tempta- tion to treat such advice lightly, to feel you know your needs better than your doctor.
 Such self-delusion may be comforting, but it de- feats the very ends you seek. Carefully follow your doctor's advice.

Hromadka May Return. Dr.
Joseph L. Hromadka, former member of the Princeton Theological Seminary faculty and a controversial figure since his return to Czechoslovakia in 1947, may return to Princeton as a member of the faculty at the Seminary's annual Princeton Institute of Theology during July 12-22.

Dr. Hromadka is listed as a tentative speaker at the institute's Bible convocation. It is not yet known whether the State Department will grant him a visa to enter this country.

His proposed trip would include attendance at the World Alliance of Presbyterian Churches in Princeton later in July and at the August meetings of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Illinois.

The Prague clergyman came to Princeton in 1939 after fleeing the Nazi forces. Since his return to his native country, he has remained as a church spokesman under communist rule. The communists have permitted him to attend meetings outside the Iron Curtain on a number of occasions.

Short Cut to a License. Despite predictions of delay or defeat in the Legislature, the New Jersey Assembly has approved by virtually unanimous vote the measures calling for revision of the State's motor vehicle registration and driver licensing system. Only one vote among 37 members was recorded against the bills, which are now expected to pass in the Senate within the next three weeks.

Principal change would be application for and receipt of plates and driver's licenses by mail. The bills call for the elimination of the state's 151 motor vehicle agencies and the creation of a central bureau whose operation it is believed would be paid for by the saving to be realized by the move.

Instead of paying for registration on a basis of horsepower, owners would be charged by the vehicle's weight, with fees ranging from $10 to $25. The amount would include charges for semi-annual safety inspections at a total cost of $150.

A three-year driver's license would be issued, with a single fee of $8 replacing the one-year outlay of $3. Renewals are planned during the month in which the applicant's birthday falls, thus staggering the volume over a 12-month period instead of the current aim to beat the March 31 deadline.

Recreation Program Set. Princeton's eight-week summer recreation season will open Monday, with four playgrounds and two wading pools providing entertainment for the younger generation five days a week. Hours at the playgrounds are 10 to 5 and at the wading pool, 1 to 5. Children from 6 to 16 may attend the play center, with the pools limited to attendance by those under 10.

Activities will include slides, see-saws, sand boxes, softball, quoits, zel ball, ping pong, track events, as well as quiet games and story-telling hours. Hobby shows, contests and tournaments in wide variety are also planned.

Those in charge of various aspects of the program, of which
C. Edward Christian is again general supervisor, are:

Anthony Borzok, director of the Harrison Street playground, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Davis and Miss Priscilla Cortelyou; Robert
G. Sinkler, director of the Witherspoon playground, assisted by Mrs. Ann Lanahan; George
Sorenson, William and Olden

It's New to Us

Angel Child. For the purpose of transforming an Imp into an angel child, there's nothing quite so fast as a small round white collar worn demurely around a small stubborn neck. The ones we speak of are at The Little Clothes Line, 6 Palmer Square West.

Made of lawn or pique, they are embroidered in white or red with innocent nosegays and a loquacious scallop. At $1.95 you could wear a jersey neckline and make your child scrappily.

Younger children — babies, in fact — might appreciate gandy bibs with mottos on them like "Our Darling" or "I'm a Little Imp." A nylon bit in pink has a dotted Swiss look to it. Another nylon in blue is sewn with pale pink flowers. These dress-up bibs are $1.55.

For a young man who's going places, buy a black sweater, long-sleeved pull-over style, with numerals in guess what color? These sweaters are hand-made in Princeton, and when you order for the two-year-old, or whatever he is, you give the year you expect him to graduate and the numbers are knit into the sweater in orange. Heaven help him if he washes one of kindergarten and upsets the numerals. Have to buy another sweater. The price is $7.95.

Terry pants for the youngest are lined with plastic and applied outside with gingham ducks, doggies or chicks in yellow or red. A matching shirt has short sleeves and a round collar.

Carter, that old reliable name, has a new set for babies. It's cotton knit, the pants in solid colors, the top in Tattersall checks. Carter also has cotton knit bibs in finer flower patterns for only 50 cents.

A boucle set for the carriage trade has lined pants and a tailored top. Boucle is a sturdy yarn for children's clothes because garments made from it hold their shape and keep their softness.

Organdy seersucker has been patterned with tiny dots and made into a one-piece sunsuit for hot days in the sandbox. A bonnet matches.

Foam rubber animals float in any bath. We found a turtle, a zebra, seal, alligator and a very small pink spaniel. Some are covered with terry, like the pup, others are gingham and all are amphibious. They are about $1 each.

Food With an Accent. Delicacies from abroad are beginning to stock the shelves of The Food Mart, 20 Witherspoon. Swiss preserves, packed in one-pound jars, are 87c for black cherry, blackberry, or a curious something called "fruit of the rose." They tell us that this berry grows at timberline in the Alps and is quite rare.

French cookies might be either cocunut, "champagne" or a tempting assortment — melange choi. You pay 53c for half a pound.

Old El Paso is a Mexican dinner collection made north of the border. It's an enchilada dinner, with side dishes, and you'll find in the $1.63 box all you need in the way of pinto beans, peeled green chili peppers and tomato and green chili sauce. Recipes are on the back of the box.

From Holland, the Food Mart has brought chocolate in the form of fingerings—two-inch chocolate fish, solid milk chocolate all the way through.

We rather hesitate to assign a fire extinguisher to any particular corner, unless it's the under-world. This one at The Food Mart happens to be domestic. It's called the Fire Away, and it's a baby extinguisher made like a can of whipped cream, shaving cream or insecticide.

For $12.29, it will put out automobile fires, grease fires in your kitchen or an unruly camp fire. You may use it in wet weather if your car stalls. Spray it on the ignition wires, and your car will start up right away.

Frozen Food Clinic. C. O. Smith, International Harvester and farm equipment dealer on Mercer Street in Hightstown, has scheduled a frozen food clinic for next Wednesday from 10:30 to 4:30 at his showroom. Full details and a discount coupon will be found in his advertisement on page 4.

Miss Dorothy Glover will give a demonstration of the best techniques for food packaging and freezing. She is a trained International Harvester home economist and a graduate of Drexel Institute.

Dip and Dunk. Canape plates with dunk partitions seem to be the feature of the hors d'oeuvres world this summer. At The Town Shop, 67 Palmer Square West, there is an Italian pottery plate, divided into sections with each section illustrating its function. One section is emblazoned with a scallop, one with anchovy, one with a hard-boiled egg.

Best of all, we think, are the matching separate plates. They are round and plain, oyster white with a sweep of charcoal around half of one side, to give the effect of a border. There are eight in the set, each one decorated differently: an olive, scallop, tomato slice, radish, egg and so on.

Howard B. Wadsworth, Jr. is chairman of the Playgrounds Committee. Mrs. Charles W. Link is honorary chairman, with William N. Smyth, vice-chairman; Francis G. Clark, secretary; and David Penrose, treasurer.

Other members are Charles R. Hartford, I. Russell Ricker, Delmar Lipp, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis, Dr. Paul R. Chesbrough, John R. Arceott, Mrs. Shepley Kimberley, 2nd, Mrs. A. L. Randall, Robert McCarthy, Ellis G. Willard, Joseph W. Miller, Jr. and Mrs. Gordon Griffin.

Camp Training Offered. Boys 13 to 16 years of age are invited to seek full details from the YMCA of a new camping program designed to increase their experience in outdoor life, as well as to provide leadership training. The offer was made public this week by Raymond Bowers, chairman of the Wawayanda Camp Committee, who reported that the program has been devised by a subcommittee headed by W. Albert Stirrup.

Plans are being made for an Appalachian Trail trip, seven days in the Adirondacks, deep sea fishing, a trip into a coal mine, a canoe trip and visits to National Parks in the east. William H. Edwards, a Yale Divinity School student with 11 years' camping experience, will direct the program. Thirty-five boys will be accepted for each of two four-week periods, with the cost set at $175 for four weeks or $340 for eight. Further information will be provided by the YMCA.

Duckworth to Head School. Dr. George E. Duckworth, Giger Professor of Classics at the University, will serve again as summer director of the annual summer session of the School of Classical Studies at the American Academy in Rome.

Professor Duckworth will be directing the six-week session in Italy for the third consecutive summer. He will sail for Italy late this month and return in September for the opening of the college. The summer session is limited to 22 teachers or graduate students and is devoted to the study of Roman civilization up to the reign of Constantine.

A member of the Princeton faculty for the past 23 years, Dr. Duckworth has been a trustee of the American Academy in Rome since 1947. Three graduate students from the Princeton classics department, Theodore V. Dutrey, John A. Hanson, Jr. and Michael J. O'Brien, have held fellowships at the Academy this year.

Bank Stock Split. Stockholders of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company voted a five-to-one stock split at a special meeting on Tuesday. The charter was amended to make the par value of each share $10 instead of $50.

George R. Cook, 3rd, president of the bank, reported that the move was designed to develop a continuing market for the stock. Increasing the number of shares from 5,000 to 25,000 will make it easier to buy and sell shares, he pointed out.

Mr. Cook announced that present stockholders will receive certificates for the additional shares to which they are entitled in the near future.

Awards at Valley Road. "Snailing for Future Parts" was the theme of the graduation exercises last week at the Valley Road School, with Joanne Somerville serving as the narrator. Speakers on various aspects of the theme were Jonathan Jay, Gustav Hedlund, Julia Morse and Elizabeth

Binoculars Needed

The Princeton Ground Observers Corps is seeking the loan of a pair of binoculars for the month of July. They are essential to plane spotters, who are manning the post on a 24-hour basis.

The field glasses should be of the six or seven-power variety and may be brought to the post at the end of Springdale Road or will be called for upon notification to Hayward Greitzland (OST-1W), the GOC supervisor. The binoculars regularly in use are the property of James Cawley, who will make them available again following his vacation.

Clark. Musical selections were offered by Elsie Glockner, Linda Brown, Erica Hamilton, Joan Freeman, John LaVake and Lawrence Underwood.

Awards in various fields were presented by Mrs. Kate E. McGill, president of the board of education. She was assisted by Mrs. Beulah M. Eissmann, superintendent, and Dr. Radcliffe Daly, assistant principal.

Awards went to: Louise Brickley from the D.A.R. for highest marks in social studies; John LaVake, for good citizenship and high scholastic rating; Jonathan Jay and Mildred Weigel, editor and business manager of the school paper; Alan Annemman, the Pete Johnson Award for ability in athletics.

Musical awards were given to Julia Morse and Elsie Glockner, orchestra; Marguerite Allison, George Cramer, Jacqueline Benesky, Jacqueline Holst, Mildred Weigel, Louise Brickley, Sonja Massey, Charles Lawrence Underwood, Robert MacNamee, Robert Speedy, William Bradley, Mary Lou Kahny, Helen Sweeney, Joan Tredennick, Linda Brown, Erica Hamilton, John LaVake, band.

The Commencement Season.

Residents of Princeton have received degrees and diplomas from institutions scattered over the nation. Among them:

The Rev. Dean N. Dobson Jr. of 44 Alexander Street, honorarily doctorate of divinity from Beavercreek College. Dr. Dobson will return to the Presbyterian mission in Punjab, India, in August.

The 1954 winner is Miss Gail Dix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dix of Lawrenceville. It has also been possible to make an unrestricted gift of $300 to the Wellesley Development Fund, in

Sports in Princeton

Good Start. Princeton's new town baseball team, christened the "Princeton Athletic Club" in memory of other years, won the opening game of its 1954 season on Brokaw Field Tuesday night. The Hopewell Raiders, the four entries in the Tri-County League, were subjected to a 4-2 defeat.

The batting of Bill Rodefied and Ray Davis and the twin-brother battery of Bruce and Bob Dennen were largely responsible for the outcome, although it was very much of a team triumph. Each outie was credited with six hits, only one of them a double, and each was charged with two errors.

The Princeton contingent opened fast, collecting three hits in the opening round that were good for a pair of runs. Del Wible was safe on an error and Bob Montgomery and Ray Davis followed with hits that filled the bases. Rodefied's clean single through the box scored two, giving the locals a lead they never relinquished.

After Hopewell had picked up one in the third on single and a wrong-field double, the P.A.C.

came back with two more in the last of the fifth. Wible again got about, this time on a hit and promptly stole second, Ray Davis drove him across with his second safety of the day.

Montgomery laid down a bunt that advanced Davis and Rodefied again came through with a base blow to make it 4-1. Hopewell rallied briefly in its half of the sixth, reaching Bruce Dennen for a pair of lead-off hits. A walk and an infield out produced one run but Dennen settled down to fan the next two batters, ending the threat.

A crowd that increased steadily as the game progressed enjoyed the contest. (For a list of games during the next ten days, see page 19.)

The score by innings:

Junior Circuit Ready. The Junior Baseball League, operated by the Princeton Playgrounds Committee for boys 15 and under, will begin its summer season Monday evening on Brokaw Field. Games will be played four evenings a week at 6:15.

Four teams are entered, two of them sponsored by L. C. Bowers and Sons and the Matthews Construction Company. Two other sponsors will be announced shortly.

B. E. Bergesen, Jr. will manage the Bowers nine, with Jim Brown running the Matthews entry. The other managers are Bob Sinkler and Wendell Beecher.

Chick Davis, who is player-manager of the P.A.C., is director of the junior league. Funds for the playground program are provided by the borough council, the township committee and the Community Chest.

The New Jersey Poll

PRESIDENT'S POPULARITY IS DOWN 7% SINCE MARCH, LATEST SURVEY REVEALS

President Eisenhower is still popular with New Jersey voters, but somewhat less so than he was 14 weeks ago.

At the present time, more than two out of every three voters interviewed in the statewide survey completed last week say they approve of the way the nation's chief executive is handling his duties. Twenty-seven in each 100 say they disapprove.

In other words, those who approve of the way Eisenhower is doing his job outnumber by a margin of five to two those who disapprove.

When New Jersey staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of the state's voters

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Eisenhower is handling his job as President?" These were the statewide results:

Approve	68%
Disapprove	27
No opinion	5

The March survey showed 75% approval, 21% disapproval, and 4% no opinion. Today's findings thus represent a 7% decrease in approval and a 6% increase in disapproval.

Highlight of today's survey findings is the sharp decrease in approval among rank and file Independent voters across the state since the previous survey.

Today, 61% of the state's Independent voters express approval.

On the previous survey, 73% of the Independent voters expressed approval.

Approve	61%
Disapprove	33
No opinion	6

In March, 73% of the Independents expressed approval; 24% disapproval, and 3% had no opinion. Among the state's Democratic voters, 39 in each 100 today express disapproval. On the previous survey, 34% expressed disapproval.

Approve	54%
Disapprove	39
No opinion	7

Fourteen weeks ago, Democrats voted as follows: Approve, 59%; disapprove, 34%; no opinion, 7%.

And among the state's GOP members, 11 in each 100 express disapproval. On the previous survey, 6 in each 100 Republicans registered disapproval.

Approve	87%
Disapprove	11
No opinion	2

The March survey showed the GOP vote as follows: Approve, 92%; disapprove, 6%; no opinion, 2%.

As measured in this same type of survey over the past 16 months, the President's popularity has ranged from a high of 80% in May, 1953, to a low of 68% today. (In both March, 1953, and November, 1953, the President's popularity also registered 68%.)

At the same time, the disapproval vote has ranged from a low of 2% in March, 1953, to today's high of 27% disapproval. (In November, 1953, the disapproval vote was also 27%.)

Col. Odenweller will be on temporary assignment at Drum. He will return to his post here as a New Jersey National Guard advisor in mid-fall. A graduate of West Point in 1930, he is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. Col. Odenweller lives in Princeton with his wife, Robin, and four children.

Zoning Change Studied. Legislation enabling home owners in the northern and eastern section of the borough to convert one-family houses into two-family dwellings is being studied in Borough Hall. The problem involved will be discussed at the Planning Board meeting on July 6, and the Borough Council meeting on July 13.

A five-man committee has been named by Mayor P. Mackay Sturges to consider a possible amendment to the zoning ordinance. Its members, all of whom live in the R-3, R-4 and R-5 Districts to be affected by whatever decision reached, are John P. Servis, Joseph J. Redding, Everett E. Satterthwait, Bryan V. Moore and Richard H. Wood.

An eight-point proposal has been advanced by the zoning board as the initial step for drafting the final amendment. As it now stands, it would permit an apartment of not less than one living room, one bedroom, one bathroom and adequate kitchen facilities, to have a total floor area of at least 600 square feet; in addition to 250 square feet of yard space for each dwelling unit. Copies of the proposal are available at Borough Hall.

Bogdonoff Renamed. Seymour Bogdonoff, has been re-elected president of the Princeton Jewish Center for the next 12 months. It is located on Olden Avenue.

Other officers are: Mayor Bernstein, first vice-president; Mrs. Norman Denard, second vice-president; Sydney Sternberg, treasurer; Mrs. Leonard Hymelring, secretary; Nat Wolman and Percy Siskowitz will serve as trustees.

Smith Club Elects. Mrs. Shepard Kimberly has been elected president of the Smith College of Princeton for the coming year. Mrs. Kimberly succeeds Miss Florence V. Curran, who has headed the group for the past two years.

Other officers will be Mrs. Frederick Rassewiler, treasurer; Mrs. Allan Stephens, secretary; and Miss J. B. Hammond, assistant secretary. The election was held at the home of Mrs. William F. Chamberlain, with Mrs. Peter Miller and Mrs. Dean Allen in charge of refreshments.

It was announced at the meeting that Miss Carol Stevens, graduating senior at Princeton High School, has been awarded the club — Continued on Page 16

 When you trade cars, don't trade also for an out-of-town agent to handle your car insurance. You have the right to insist on a local agent. Just say, "I let O. H. Hubbard Agency handle my insurance."
 Most policies provide for an automatic 30 day coverage on a new car when you trade your old one. It isn't necessary to trade in your car insurance too. In fact, you'll lose money if you do.
 Sometimes you may need to borrow money on your car even when you're not trading for a newer model. Here again, a new policy is not needed.
 Simply notify your agent and he will issue the proper "ass-payable" endorsement.

The Bank-Agent plan, introduced ten years ago, brings home the fact that it is possible to get low cost financing through banks and through local insurance agents.

Our agency features auto insurance—the kind with a clearly SERVICE thrown in when you need it. In emergencies, we are always "available."

The menu consists of clam-steamed and on the half-shell,

News of the Theatres

MURRAY THEATRE

Tennessee Williams' newest and most controversial play, "Camino Real", will open Monday night in Murray Theatre as the first production of the University Players season. Seven other shows will follow "Camino" into the air-conditioned theatre for Monday through Saturday runs.

"The Rose Tattoo" by Williams got the Players off to a fine start last summer, and "Camino" will present an even greater challenge. The play would be difficult for any summer stock group, and the present company of young actors and actresses from all parts of the country have been holding extra rehearsals in order to do justice to the script.

The play has been revised by Williams since its Broadway run of two seasons ago, and the Players will be giving the new version one of its first productions. The script calls for 35 parts.

The directing assignment has gone to Edward Horner because of the illness of James MacAllen. Mr. Horner, who will return to direct "Ghosts" the week of July 26, has headed the drama department at Cornell College in Iowa. He has directed four seasons of summer stock in various parts of the country and appeared on numerous television shows.

Barbara Wersba will be cast in the leading feminine role of Marguerite Gautier. A graduate of Bard College, she has appeared in college dramatic shows and with the Forestburg Summer Theatre, Orleans Summer Theatre and the Provincetown Playhouse. Ronald Harper, a veteran of the Players company of last summer, will be seen in the male lead of Kilroy.

Two prominent members of the Circle in the Square Theatre (one of New York's leading off-Broadway groups) will also be in the "Camino Real" cast. They are George Petrarca and Lola D'Annunzio, both of whom were in the recent "Girl on the Via Flaminia". Miss D'Annunzio scored a major hit here last summer with her performance in "The Rose Tattoo".

Thomas Potter, Monroe Wade, Rayna Barroll and Philip Minor, who are familiar to Princeton theatre-goers through many productions in recent years, will also be in the cast. Newcomers to the Players who will be in the show include Lelia Barry (Finch College), Pat Crawford (Fordham) and Mario Siletti, a youthful veteran of off-Broadway theatre, summer stock and films.

Reservations may be made by calling the University Players box office (tel. 3539). Tickets are priced at $1.80 for Monday through Thursday and $2 for Friday and Saturday.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

With "Time of the Cuckoo" the current attraction at the Bucks County Playhouse, running through this Saturday night, producer Michael Ellis will offer the comedy "My Three Angels" for a week starting Monday. There will be Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

"My Three Angels" is another Sam and Bella Spewack comedy hit. It ran for 342 performances in the original Broadway production last year. Jerome Cowan, the resident star at the Bucks Playhouse this season, will be back in a familiar setting in the comedy.

Mr. Cowan was a member of the original company of the show and has been promoted to "first angel" for the coming production. The role was created by Walter Slezak, with Mr. Cowan shifting into the part on some 20 occasions.

The "angels" are three convicts in a French Guiana prison camp who help the family of an impractical shopkeeper out of various difficulties in the line of faintly illegal "trust" duty. Mr. Cowan will be the embezzler convict; David Leland, the wife-murderer, and Jack Cassidy, the dashing romantic killer.

Others in the cast include Joseph Graham as the shopkeeper, Judith Elder as his wife, Gisella Orkin as their pretty daughter, Barney Biro as a stuffy suitor, Neil Fitzgerald as the villain, Johanna Douglas and Eugene Smith.

As for "Time of the Cuckoo," maybe it was just that this department's sense of humor had a night off. Anyway, the assembled emotional idiocies of the Americans abroad seemed exceptionally unfunny, and the view of the Italian romantic temperament equally naive.

The idea that an unmarried, plump American secretary heading towards 40 and with a touch with the laughs needs a married, middle-aged Italian to point out her emotional repression may or may not be funny, depending on your point of view. The success of the play in New York says that it is.

The display of a young American couple who haven't the faintest notion of the fundamental human relationships in marriage; the retired American couple who act like fools in a foreign country, and the statement that extramarital activities on the part of all Italians are an everyday matter which keeps them emotionally stable—all this comes pretty close to being boringly cliched, even for comedy.

The opening night audience didn't seem to be overwhelmed by laughter, but it trotted out a good burst of applause for the cast, and chiefly for Edna Best. Miss Best's good moments were a big help along the way.

The remainder of the cast also turned in competent work after a slow first act. Lee Philips and Claire Kirby as the young couple, Anne Heigra as the Italian signora, Rino Negri as the lover, Ralph Robertson as the pesky little boy and Sylvia Gassel, repeating her original role of the cook, were the major figures in support of Miss Best.

The play does have some funny moments as well as a good company and an excellent set. But there have been better evenings at the Bucks Playhouse already this season—and there will undoubtedly be even better ones as the summer goes on.

BUCKS COUNTY STAR: Jerome Cowan is in "My Three Angels," opening at New Hope on Monday for a week's run.

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Carousel" has begun a two-week run at St. John Terrell's Music Circus in Lambertville. The musical plays through Sunday, July 4, with matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The recent revival of "Carousel" in New York has given rise to the opinion that the work is the most substantial of all Rodgers and Hammerstein's great hits. It has previously been a major success at the Music Circus.

The large cast is headed by Peggy Bonini, William Johnson, Dorothy MacFarland and Donald Clarke. Others in the group include Lorraine Bridges, Lee Davis, Ruth White, Van Hawley and Patience Jarvis. Miss MacFarland, who is repeating her role in the musical, played Ado Annie in "Oklahoma" for five years on Broadway.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Demetrius and the Gladiators (Thurs.-Tues.) plays for a week in Technicolor CinemaScope. It picks up where "The Robe" ended, so you can judge accordingly. The same Roman sets are used, as well as much of the same personnel. Victor Mature, is again Demetrius, the slave; Jay Robinson plays the emperor Caligula and Michael Rennie, Peter.

The picture deals with various combat with gladiators and wild animals; the lecherous intentions of Susan Hayward (as the empress Messalina); the wavering of Demetrius' Christian faith, and various other events, all depicted on a spectacular scale. Technically, an improvement over "The Robe."

Johnny Guitar (Wed.-Sat.) departs from the usual Western formula in several respects, chiefly that the conflict is between two women. They are Joan Crawford, as a casino owner backing railroaders, and Mercedes McCambridge, a banker's sister who's backing the ranchers. Sterling Hayden is a cool ex-gun-fighter, and others in the cast include Scott Brady and Ward Bond. Well put together. Tricolor.

THE GARDEN

Creature from the Black Lagoon (Thurs.-Sat.) will wind up activities at The Garden until September. It's a hack science fiction piece, the creature being supposedly a scaly survivor of the Devonian Epoch. He messes up a fair number of scientists in the Amazon jungle and even kidnaps Julia Adams, a screaming, bathing-suited researcher. Under water much of the time, in several ways.

League Plans Completed. Formation of the four-team Tri-County Baseball League was completed last week and a six-week schedule has started. Entries include the Princeton Athletic Club, the Hopewell Raiders and teams from Montgomery Township and Lambertville.

In addition to meeting the other three members of the league twice a week on a home and home basis until the first of August, the Princeton A.C. will schedule a number of independent games. Brookav Field, which provides a natural amphitheatre between Dillon Gymnasium and Baker Rink, will serve as the diamond for contests here. The starting time is 6:15 for the twilight engagements.

Following the opener Tuesday night (see page 11 for details), the outfit that Chick Davis is coaching will journey to Montgomery Sunday afternoon. Other teams in the circuit prefer to play home games on Sunday afternoons, but the Princetonians will be in action here during the week, largely on Tuesday nights. Thursday will send them against Ewing Athletic Club. The latter is an independent team not involved in Tri-County play.

Friday night, July 2, will send Princeton to Hopewell for a return contest with the Raiders. The fourth team in the circuit, Montgomery Township, will make its first appearance here on Tuesday, July 6.

A group of Princeton men interested in providing the community with summer baseball is seeking financial backing for the team, which needs $400 to $500 to cover the cost of uniforms, bats, balls, insurance and similar expenses. B. E. Bergesen, whose offices are at 180 Nassau Street, is the treasurer and Roger O'Kane is the committee chairman.

CUP WINNER: Royce Flippin, Princeton second baseman, won the Goaches' Cup as the sophomore showing the greatest improvement during past season.

Diminishing Success. Figures compiled for the college year now ended show that a decline was experienced in Princeton's athletic fortunes. This proved to be the case in both team championships and the won-lost record for the period from September through June.

During 1952-53, Tiger teams won the Pentagonal Hockey League and the Eastern Baseball League races and took national honors in lacrosse and 150lb. crew. None of these titles could be retained, but it should be pointed out that ability to repeat is a rarity in college athletics. The baseball championship, for example, had not been won twice in a row since 1941 and '42—when Princeton accomplished the trick.

The won-lost average sagged 68 percentage points to .574, the lowest figure in the past five years. The totals show 260 victories against 196 defeats and eight ties, for a mark of .574. Last year, the record was .642 and five years ago, a lofty .706 was achieved.

Only three varsity teams—cross-country, hockey and crew—finished below the .500 mark, but on a cumulative basis, all of them could not average three victories in every five contests in which they engaged. The average for the season was .584.

Freshmen Below Average. Until freshmen teams reach the varsity level, statistics recording their success are not unduly accurate in charting their future ability. The athletes they produce must blend with two other classes, and occasionally freshmen teams that have been weak provide just the right material for varsity squads. The fact remains that the won-lost average of the Class of 1957 was some 88 percentage points below that of its immediate predecessor. All-around ability was lacking in football, basketball and lacrosse, three sports in which Princeton has enjoyed above-average success in recent years.

Grew Ninth at Syracuse. The national rowing regatta at Syracuse was another disappointment for Princeton, although the freshmen surprised with a fourth-place finish in a nine-man boat. The varsity was ninth out of 11 and the Jayvees seventh in an eight-crew race.

Cornell provided the upset of the day, finishing ahead of Navy in the point score. The Ithacans broke both the freshmen and Jayvee events, placing second to Navy in the varsity race. The midweek victory by two lengths in the main event ran their string of—Continued on Page 20 triumphs over three years to 29, victories that included three Eastern, three national and one Olympic titles.

Probably the most surprising aspect of the ninth-place Princeton finish is the fact that Boston University crossed the line ahead of the Tigers. The Beantowners have never been classed with the major rowing colleges in the country despite their entry in the national regatta.

Navy's margin over Cornell was two lengths, with Washington third, Wisconsin, California, Columbia, Penn and B.U. preceded the Tigers, who defeated M.I.T. and Syracuse. Princeton was about 11 lengths behind the winner.

Pitchers Dominate. Statistics for the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League show that the 1954 season was a pitcher's year. Three hurlers were cited with earned run averages of less than 1.00, Brown's Dick Ailsbrough turning in a perfect 0.00. He pitched 26 innings, won two shutouts and lost one game on unearned runs.

Dave McGinnis of the Navy was 0.45 in 20 innings, so that Joe Castle's mark of 0.88 for 51 innings is possibly of greater credit to the Tiger hurler than the records compiled by the first two. Joe's mark of four victories against a defeat was also one of the league's best.

Far down at the bottom of the list was Dick Emery, who last year hurled Princeton to the title almost single-handed. In 77 innings last spring, his earned run average was a fine 1.28.

This year, it skidded to 4.74 in 39 innings. He did have a 2-4 mark in league play, but needed the 13 runs the Tigers got for him at Columbia to gain credit for that one.

On his success in overcoming the sore-arm troubles that plagued him this spring rest Princeton's chances for next year. Dick was a far better than average college pitcher as a sophomore, but still has an unusual throwing motion that was responsible for a sore shoulder this season and consequent inability to use his full speed. It was his fast ball that largely carried him through to a fine 9-2 record a year ago.

Further proof that 1954 was a pitcher's year comes in the batting statistics. Corn's John Andrich won the title with a mark of .301, fifth lowest in the league's quarter-century.

Roy Flippin, Princeton sophomore second baseman, was credited with the most hits (13) and finished third in the batting averages with .371. John Easton at 313, Pete Millard, at 308 and Hank Thunmy at an even 300 gave the Tigers four of the league's best hitters. All of them will be back next year.

Pro Ball Players. Six Princeton alumni are now in organized baseball, although not all are active at present.

Joe Golden, captain of last year's Eastern Intercollegiate League champions, is with Savannah in the Sally League. A good prospect as a first baseman, he's the property of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Jim Fairchild, shortstop and outfielder of three seasons ago, is with Omaha in the Western League. He joined with the former Boston Braves, but has since been released.

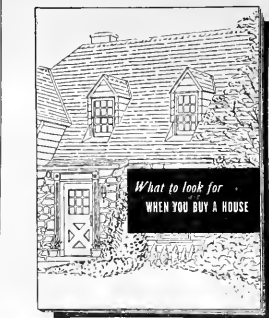

Dave Sisler, who had a fine year with Albany in the Eastern League before moving up to Louisville, has been drafted and is receiving his basic Army training at Fort Dix. A fine pitching prospect, he received a $40,000 bonus when signing with the Boston Red Sox.

Harry Brightman, who pitched a no-hit game against Fordham in May of 1952, is about to be discharged by the Navy. A good southpaw pitching prospect, he is the property of the St. Louis Cardinals.

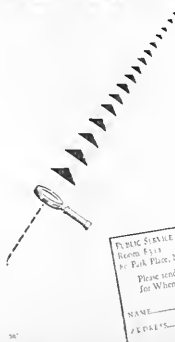

Will Prior, captain of the 1951 champions, was given a contract by the New York Giants and played for St. Cloud, Minn., after graduating. He was later drafted by the Army.

A round flat metal plate—we saw it in yellow—has a glass dunking center decorated with precise little colored butterflies, that are much too pretty to cover up with cream cheese.

California, sends along some aluminum ware designed for salads or canapes. In this case, the dip dish is a shallow bowl resting on a small plate.

The finish of this ware is soft coral or white spatter-painted with gold. It is thin and plain, relying on its color and its touch of gold for attention. There is a large round salad bowl and individual bowls that are a bit larger than usual. A platter goes under the big bowl but can be used separately. The pieces are sold individually or in sets.

A Separate Life. Clothes for play and rest lead a separate life this summer as they have for many a heat-wave now. At Bert-Ann, 188 Nassau, you can begin with shorts, in any length that becomes you. We found them in Bermuda, Jamaica and little-boy. ("little boy" means, of course, "they've gone about as far as they can go.")

Many of the shorts are in Playtone—a crinkle fabric that needs little or no ironing. Grey and lime are the chief colors. There is also a plaid seersucker, a Playtone in sailing blue, and a grey chambray that looks useful. Prices are in the neighborhood of $3.95.

A set that may be sold separately or together, consists of skirt with deep pockets, a halter-type blouse, and a strapless boned top. The skirt is $4.95, the halters are $2.95 each.

Other skirts and tops, most of them in Playtone, combine almost to infinity. We liked a royal purple (or brown) skirt with wooden buttons down the front. Another skirt is deep turquoise with a cross-hatch of bright contrasting colors on the side. With it, wear either a matching sleeveless blouse, or a scoop-neck blouse with wooden buttons. The skirt is $5.95, the blouses $3.95.

A seersucker skirt follows the pattern, and lets you choose between plain or scoop-neck top. An Oriental print, richly colored, has mustard and white dots, so adroitly arranged that they give the effect of gold. With the skirt goes an iridescent copper-colored top, cut in surplice style.

Wrought iron appears everywhere. This time it's on an oyster-white skirt, to great effect, it seemed to us. The skirt is bold and unusual, quite striking with a black surplice top. Black designs appear on another skirt, this time against a pink background. The skirt is criss-crossed with black lines, and the matching stole repeats the pattern.

Beach wear at Bert-Ann focuses on a terry-lined denim jacket that is reversible. It has three-quarter sleeves. If you want terry all the way through, look at the daffodil-yellow robes (they come in aqua or white, too) cut short as your bathing suit, duster-length, or full-length. The long ones can double as a beach blanket.

A bra-slip at $4.95 gives one answer to two problems. It comes in broadcloth, white only, or a cotton plisse that sells for $6.95.

Mothers and daughters go everywhere these days, it seems. Now they have matching gowns and pajamas. (Daughter sizes are six, eight and ten.) The pajamas—if you can call them that—are white plisse with short bloomer legs edged with a ruffle. Rosehuds mark the waist and the right shoulder strap. The garment is called Ribbons and Roses and there are plenty of both.

Dress-length gowns for mother are cut with yoke or with fitted bodice. Some are pastels—every pastel on the palette—others are white trimmed with bright coral. We liked a duster-and-gown set in cotton plisse with a ruffle that ends at a tie at the neckline.

Pantry Set. Dishes you can toss on the breakfast table, fill with luncheon soup, and use for a family dinner—such a bread-and-butter set is Windsor Ware at The Cummins Shop (96 Nassau). Imported from England, where it's made by the old Johnson Brothers factory, this earthenware is a cream color with mulberry-colored pattern very similar to the old onion pattern of years gone by.

The set consists of a 20-piece group—four five-piece place settings, for $9.95. You get a plate, cup and saucer (sturdy, straight-sided cup), salad plate and deep cereal or soup bowl. Although you buy it as a set, it can be replaced if you should set the table too carelessly some morning.
